The fire, which spread to part of the stables, and through which and the smoke a galling fire was kept up by the Imperial troops, was with difficulty extinguished, and, as the presence of the enemy in the adjoining buildings was a grave danger to the Legation, a sortie was organized to drive them out. A hole was made in the Legation Wall, and Captain Halliday, in command of twenty Marines, led the way into the buildings and almost immediately engaged a party of the enemy. Scottish Provident Institution.

ESTABLISHED 1837.

IN THIS SOCIETY are combined the advantages of Mutual Assurance with Moderate Premiums.

THE PREMIUMS are so moderate that an Assurance of £1200 or thereby may generally be secured from the first for the yearly payment which usually would be charged (with profits) for £1000 only—the difference of £200 being equivalent to an immediate and certain bonus of 20 per cent.

THE WHOLE SURPLUS goes to the Policyholders, on a system at once safe and equitable—no share being given to those by whose early death there is a loss to the common Fund.

THE SURPLUS at the 1901 Investigation was £1,581,000.

Over 60 per cent. of the Members who died during the Septennium were entitled to Bonuses which, notwithstanding that the premiums do not as a rule exceed the non-profit rates of other Offices, were, on the average, equal to an addition of over 50 per cent. to the Original Assurances.

ACCUMULATED FUNDS exceed £12,000,000.

All the conditions of Assurance are arranged on the most equitable basis.

Officers of the Army and Navy may cover War or Climate Risk, or both, by an uniform annual extra premium of moderate amount, payable for any period not exceeding ten years, but ceasing on permanent retirement from the Service. This arrangement secures relief from the necessarily heavy extra charges which would otherwise be imposed as occasions might arise; but it can be taken advantage of only when there is no near prospect of Active Service or Foreign Residence.

It was eventually forced by a small party of fifty rifles, with another of equal strength in support. The first of these parties was under the command of Lieut. Smith, and it was entirely owing to his splendid leading, and the coolness, combined with dash, he displayed while doing so, that a success was obtained. For nearly four hours, on the face of a cliff which was almost precipitous, he steadily moved his handful of men from point to point, as the difficulties of the ground and showers of stones from above gave him an opportunity, and during the whole of this time he was in such a position as to be unable to defend himself from any attack the enemy might choose to make. He was the first man to reach the summit, within a few yards of one of the enemy's singars, which was immediately rushed, Lieut. Smith pistolling the first man."

- ¹⁷¹ Major H. F. Whitechurch served with the Lushai Expeditionary Force in 1892 (Medal with Clasp). Served in the defence of Chitral Fort during its investment from 3rd March to 18th April 1895 (mentioned in despatches, V.C. Medal with Clasp); was awarded the Victoria Cross for the following service:—"During the sortie from Chitral Fort of the 3rd March last [1895], at the commencement of the siege, Surgeon Captain Whitechurch went to the assistance of Captain Baird, 24th Bengal Infantry, who was mortally wounded, and brought him back to the fort under a heavy fire from the enemy. Captain Baird was on the right of the fighting line, and had only a small party of Gurkhas and men of the 4th Kashmir Rifles. He was wounded on the heights at a distance of a mile and half from the fort. When Surgeon Capt. Whitechurch proceeded to his rescue, the enemy, in great strength, had broken through the fighting line; darkness had set in, and Captain Baird, Surgeon Captain Whitechurch, and the sepoy were completely isolated from assistance. Captain Baird was placed in a dooly by Surgeon Captain Whitechurch, and the party then attempted to return to the fort. The Gurkhas bravely clung to the dooly until three were killed and a fourth was severely wounded. Surgeon Captain Whitechurch then put Captain Baird upon his back and carried him some distance with heroic courage and resolution. The little party kept diminishing in numbers, being fired at the whole way. On one or two occasions Surgeon Captain Whitechurch was obliged to charge walls, from behind which the enemy kept up an incessant fire. At one place particularly the whole party was in imminent danger of being cut up, having been surrounded by the enemy. Surgeon Captain Whitechurch gallantly rushed the position, and eventually succeeded in getting Captain Baird and the sepoy into the fort. Nearly all the party were wounded, Captain Baird receiving two additional wounds before reaching the fort."
